

Facter.

Reliable, Trustworthy

Facter can make mistakes. Please do your due diligence as well.

Facter.

email

password

Change Password

Forget Password

Facter can make mistakes. Please do your due diligence as well.

Facter.

Please enter your email and we will send you a one-time
password

email

Facter can make mistakes. Please do your due diligence as well.

Facter.

John Walker
johnwalker@gmail.com

Log Out

Change Password

Facter can make mistakes. Please do your due diligence as well.

Facter.

Enter URL

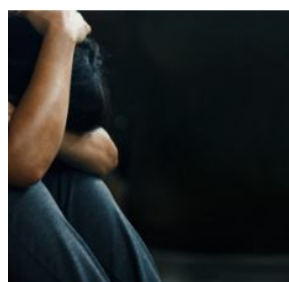

Read what's trending

Netflix show 'Single's Inferno' now casting for season 5

Number of subjects required for JC admissions reduced to 5 from 2028 JAE

MOH setting up new 24/7 residential facility for youths at risk of self-harm

Facter can make mistakes. Please do your due diligence as well.

Checking the facts

Facter.

Back

Community
Notes

Warning: This article has been deemed as fake.
Credibility Score: <5%

Summary of your link:

Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong purportedly endorsing investment in cryptocurrencies such as Bitcoin and Ethereum. The fake online articles portrayed the investments to be safe and highly lucrative.

What our sources say:

No, Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong Has Not Endorsed Cryptocurrency Investments – Singapore Authorities Warn of Scams

Facter.

Community
Notes

Back

This article is verified.
Credibility Score: >95%

Summary of your link:

Education Minister Chan Chun Sing questioned the value and viability of eliminating "high stakes" examinations such as the PSLE or the introduction of ten-year through-train schools.

Facter.

Community
Notes

Back

This article seems unverified.
Credibility Score: <30%

Summary of your link:

A 20-weeks pregnant patient who had allegedly suffered a miscarriage after waiting four hours to see a doctor at KKH

What our sources say:

Facter was unable to find enough sources to back this article. Please refer to the community notes or sought other sources.

Facter.

Back

Community
Note

This article seems unverified.
Credibility Score: <30%

Summary of your link:

Community Note

No Community Note has been added yet. Please provide any context available by pressing the plus icon.

Facter.

Back

Community
Note

This article seems unverified.
Credibility Score: <30%

Summary of your link:

Community Note

Members have added context to this article. Please contribute to improving the context of this article.

This article is fake. The woman sent misinformation to WakeUpSG purely out of spite.

KK Hospital has had a long history of mistreating their patients

Facter.

Community
Note

Back

This article seems unverified.
Credibility Score: <30%

Summary of your link:

Community Note

Investigations by KKH confirmed that the patient had been seen by a doctor within an hour of her arrival at the hospital in February, and that she did not suffer any miscarriage, said MOH.